Autocross: life in the not-so-fast lanes

BY JON SOLOMON

TIMES-DISPATCH STAFF WRITER

Weaving in and out of lanes causes anxiety for most drivers. For participants in the Virginia Motor Sport Club's autocross races, it's a source of fun.

Autocross is a timed competitive event in which cars must navigate through a half-mile course. Cones are spread apart about every 100 feet for drivers to dodge. Cars travel between 20 and 50 mph and can vary in model. They are grouped in different classes to keep the competition fair.

George Ferrell, a club member for six years, drives his 1990 Mazda Miata in races.

"Even if you don't want to race, it's a nice thing to do so you know how to handle your car," Ferrell said. "When you're out on the highway, you're going to have strange situations come up. This helps you react better. Autocross stresses handling the car, not how fast you can go."

Virginia Motor Sport Club President Dana Cole said the events are GETTING READY. The Virginia Motor Sport Club's next autocross is scheduled for Aug. 10 at Fort Lee.

designed so that any level of driver can participate.

"It's not unusual for a husband and wife to drive together, or a father and son or daughter," Cole said. "We get all kinds. The other thing that we stress is that it is both a safe and family event. There is absolutely no alcohol."

Drivers don't have to have experience in autocross racing to compete. The club has a school that teaches beginning drivers.

"I highly recommend the school just to improve your driving," Ferrell said.

Those interested in racing must have a valid driver's license and be over 18.

Cole said his club gets anywhere from 50 to 100 entrants. The club has four more events scheduled this year: Aug. 10 at Fort Lee McLaney Drop Zone; Sept. 21 at Virginia Motor Sport Park in Dinwiddie; Oct. 12 at Fort Pickett Air Strips; and Nov. 1-2, also at Fort Pickett, for the state championship.

The cost to compete is $15 for Virginia Motor Sport Club members and $18 for nonmembers. Membership generally costs $30, depending on whether it's an individual or family signing up.

Cole said he became involved shortly after he bought a Porsche in 1974.

"A friend said, 'Are you interested in a safe, nonthreatening kind of fun event?' I said, 'Sure, why not?' 'I've been with it ever since.'"

For more information on how to compete or join the Virginia Motor Sport Club, call Dana Cole at 740-5126.
